In the summer of June, 2018, Olivia ventured to Cusco, Perú with 19 other students from Southern Utah University. There, she stayed with a family native to Cusco with 3 other students from SUU as well as two other students from Europe. They ate food native to Perú and typical of the area. They also participated in internships, took Spanish classes, traveled to famous landmarks, experienced museums, cooking classes, and so much more. Olivia's goal was to expand cultural awareness and understanding, and to improve her Spanish. She says that she exceeded her goals and she definitely got more than she bargained for with this study abroad!
